

Google Scholar

For more academic resources use Google Scholar which provides a simple way to broadly search for scholarly literature. To access, search on Google for 'Google Scholar'. This takes you to the following page:

You'll also notice information on search tips.

The screenshot shows the Google Scholar homepage in a web browser. The browser's address bar displays 'scholar.google.com'. The page features the Google Scholar logo at the top center, followed by a search input field with a magnifying glass icon. Below the search field, there are radio buttons for 'Articles' (selected) and 'Case law'. Underneath, a section titled 'Articles about COVID-19' lists various journals: CDC, NEJM, JAMA, Lancet, Cell, BMJ, Nature, Science, Elsevier, Oxford, Wiley, and medRxiv. At the bottom of this section, the phrase 'Stand on the shoulders of giants' is displayed in green. The browser's taskbar at the bottom shows the Windows logo, a search bar with the text 'Type here to search', and several application icons. The system tray on the right indicates the time as 13:47 and the date as 04/08/2020.
